

THE BOOK FAIR IS COMING!

The annual book fair will be arriving in our school next week and will run from Friday (10-21) through Wednesday (10-26). Students will be able to purchase a variety of books for their own use. The more books that are sold, the more books we can keep for our library! I am always looking for ways to improve the collection of our library, and this is one of the best ways to increase the number of books.

This week, each student received a pamphlet highlighting some of the books that will be at the book fair. Not every book is listed that will be a part of the fair. However, this will give you some idea as to the books that are available. I would encourage all of you to come with your children at some point if possible. Things always seem to run smoother when parents are involved in the selection of books to purchase. To try and accommodate more parents, we will be open during parent/teacher conferences on Monday, October 24. I hope that this will help some of you get to be a part of the book fair with your children.

The only other thing that I need to mention is the sales tax issue. We are required to charge sales tax (7.8%) on the products that are purchased at the book fair. This is not an easy concept for students to understand, and it is helpful to have as many parents as possible attend with their children in order to help with this idea.

Thank you for your participation in the book fair. We are looking forward to an exciting and successful week! If you have any questions, feel free to call me at 367-8118. Thanks! Mr. Pauls
